Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, On March 22, 1967, Mildred and Harold Johnson of rural Burke became the proud parents of Douglas Raymond Johnson. This was a splendid day for the Johnson family, Doug being the sixth child and by far the most handsome; and,

WHEREAS, Doug was the youngest of six children, a rosy life, until 1975 when he had to move over slightly upon the arrival of a baby sister; and,

WHEREAS, Doug has been known to ride in parades with wagon and team, thresh at the local threshing bee, and has been seen throwing a fowl at the community "Chicken Flying Contest"; and,

WHEREAS, "Deadeye" Doug is a man of many talents, having shot a deer in the orb. Doug masters game of all sorts when in season (not to be confused with nocturnal activities); and,

WHEREAS, Doug is a traveler, having seen the sights of Nebraska, Colorado and even the Caverns of Carlsbad, New Mexico; and,

WHEREAS, Doug is considered a talented carpenter by the family and others, having built part of the living room furniture. His accomplishments include a cabinet, waterbed, coffee table with an inlaid top and most importantly, a garage; and,

WHEREAS, Doug began his farming career early in life, providing all family members and neighbors with popcorn for several years and by growing sunflower plants with massive crowns, and Doug is starting his own cattle herd, loves driving the tractor, milking the cows and is a South Dakota farmer through and through; and,

WHEREAS, Doug will graduate from Burke High School, Burke, South Dakota on May 20, 1985, a moment of pride for the whole Johnson family:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim May 20, 1985, as

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Seventeenth Day of May, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Five
